

HAUTE COUTURE

BOWIE is highly renowned within celebrity circles and savvy public spheres for his outstanding, uniquely detailed garments seen on red carpets around the world and for providing a traditionally personal approach to creating couture pieces. With a well-established reputation for fine craftsmanship, Bowie takes pride in sourcing the highest quality fabrics from carefully selected suppliers worldwide to ensure the perfect match between original design insight and the individual client.

We recommend that your initial visit to our atelier be made three months prior to when you will require your dress, at which time you are invited to meet with Bowie for a free, 30-minute preliminary consultation in which he will take you on a guided mind-map of the creative process from conceptual style choices to fabric selection, through fittings and tailored advice upon collection of your custom-made garment.

Meetings are by appointment only

“Paper Crane” Collection, 2011

“Paper Crane” transforms the unique art of origami into wearable creations of floral beauty and graceful paper folds. Throughout the collection, fitted bodices encourage the grace of curves. Flowing fishtails, featured godets and floating skirts propel the silhouette forward; there is a lightness of layered organza in flight. Flashes of red ignite the passion within this couture collection; complimented by lashings of black elegance. Tiers of rippled ribbon and bead-embroidered focal details personify the sophistication of this collection. Dresses symbolise individual stories; told in hand-cut flowers and Japanese-folded fans.
